White Sox Cinch Am. League Flag

(United Press Licensed Wire.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22. — The White Sox today possess an undisputed advantage over the Giants as the time for the world's series approaches.
The pennant is clinched; they finish their season Oct. 1, three days before the Giants get thru, and have had enough rest already this month to put them in the best of shape for the grueling games that will wind up baseball for the year.
The new champions of the American league finish season in New York with a farewell smack at the Yankees. They will board a train immediately after the game at the Polo grounds and beat it to Chicago, there to take it easy until the Giants get in sight. They have had several one-day layoffs this month and one that extended the better part of the week. They have only eight games left on their schedule.

The Giants still must win two games before they can claim the pennant as their own. They play a double-header today with the Pirates and if they take both ends they will be in a day behind the Sox.

Kolb & Dill On Their Way

An early attraction at the Tacoma theater will be the premier laugh makers, Kolb and Dill, in the musical fun show entitled "The High Cost of Loving," and in which they are said to have the very best opportunity for their talents.
Typical of the Kolb and Dill style of entertainment "The High Cost of Loving" is a mixture of fun, music and girls and is brim full of up-to-date novelty surprises.

MELBOURNE SUN. MON. TUES. DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS "IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN"

They Kick and Frolic In "So Long Letty"

Some of the girls in the musical comedy novelty, "So Long Letty," which comes to the Tacoma Sunday for five performances. "So Long Letty" will be the attraction at the Tacoma theater for four nights, beginning Sunday, with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon. This is Oliver Morosco's successful farce which has just completed a two-year's tour of the principal cities of the east and west, which comes here intact with the same magnificent production and brilliant cast.
The book is by Oliver Morosco and Elmer Harris, while Earl Carroll has contributed 18 musical numbers of the liting whistling voice and ingratiating smile, Sydney Grant, May Boley, Tyler Brooke and Henerietta Lee complete the list of funmakers, while a chorus of charming girls add much to the entertainment.

Mary Pickford Plays Role of "Becky" In Most Popular Play

Mary Pickford and members of her company, in a scene from her newest success, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

LEADING PLAYERS:
Rebecca Mary Pickford
Adam Ladd Eugene O'Brien
Mr. Cobb Charles Ogle
Jane Sawyer Mayme Kelso
Miranda Sawyer Josephine Crowell
Emma Jane Marjorie Daw

One of the classics of American literature is "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and this delightful story is told in picture form at the Colonial tomorrow, with Mary Pickford in the role of Rebecca. Little Mary is an ideal choice for the role of Rebecca. She is an adept at delineating the character of a child, and her talent as a comedienne is given ample play. It is said to be her greatest triumph.
An added feature of the bill is the "Fatty" Arbuckle comedy, "A Reckless Romeo."

New $30,000 Dance Pavilion at American Lake to Open Friday

Everything is in readiness for the big military ball Friday night that the owners of the new National pavilion at American lake have arranged for the benefit of the enlisted men's club that is now being installed in Tacoma.
R. F. Carter, who came direct from Washington to look after the amusement and entertainment of the men at Camp Lewis, recognized the need of a clubhouse in Tacoma where the men could spend their time and feel at home. After consulting local business men a plan was devised whereby funds would be raised for the necessary equipment and the result is that every uniformed member of Uncle Sam's army will now have a place to spend an enjoyable hour while in Tacoma.
Among the first to come forward was the National Amusement Co. owners of the National pavilion, with an offer of the opening night's receipts. The pavilion which has just been completed is situated on American lake and was built at a cost of $30,000. The lower story has a maple dance floor 120 feet long and 60 feet wide, which will accommodate 1,000 couples, while the upper floor will take care of nearly as many more with its 4,000 feet of floor space.
The management has spared no expense in making the new pavilion comfortable, attractive and cozy. Roy Foley, writer of ragtime music and one of the best known piano players on the coast, has arrived from Reno and will take charge of the orchestra. In fact, the opening night will be run with the same staff and personnel that the National Amusement Co. has contracted to conduct the nightly dances with.

Nesbit Film Ends Tonight

"Redemption," with Evelyn Nesbit and her son Russell Thaw pictured in the leading parts, which has been the offering at the Tacoma theater this week, will close its engagement with tonight's performance at 7 and 9 o'clock. The two are seen to good advantage in the picture which has enjoyed a most successful run here.

Miss Crossman In New Success

Among the October offerings at the Tacoma theater will be Henrietta Crossman in "Erstwhile Susan," a success in which Miss Crossman is most pleasing, it is said.

There will be no cause for "getting the cake" if you visit the Melbourne Sunday when "Doug" appears on the screen in his first Artercraft picture, "In Again—Out Again," a satire crammed full of hearty laughs.

Lockwood Has Another Star In New Drama

HAROLD LOCKWOOD in "UNDER HANDICAP"

LEADING PLAYERS
Greek Conmission Harold Lockwood
John Crawford, W. H. Bainbridge
Argyl Crawford Anna Little
Brayley, ranch foreman Lester Cuneo
Bat Truxton T. H. Gibson-Gowland

Harold Lockwood in another book play, "Under Handicap," comes to the Apollo Sunday. It is one of those big red-blooded, clean Metro productions which make such a hit with photoplay followers.
Lockwood has a new leading woman, Anna Little, formerly in musical comedy, picked especially for her fitness for the part. The story is of New York and the desert, and it has a gripping plot.

Well Known Entertainers On Sunday's Bill at the Hip

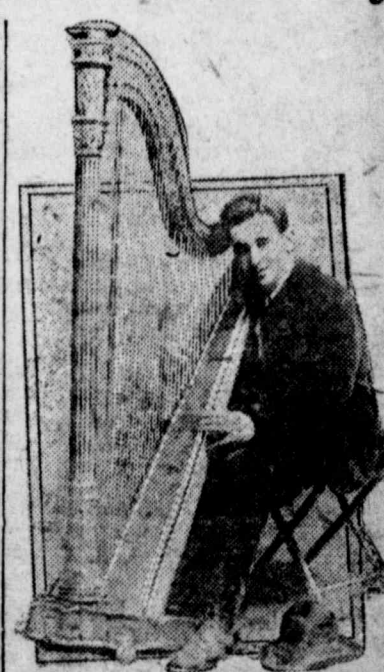

The Belgian Trio, whose act is one of the hits of the present Hippodrome bill.

One of the classiest vocal and instrumental numbers in vaudeville will come to the Hippodrome theater Sunday afternoon for a four-day run, with the arrival of the Eugene Page entertainers.
Two women and five men comprise the personnel of the act. The quintet offer a varied program of singing and instrumental numbers. The women vocalists are possessed of finely trained voices and the men are musicians of no mean ability.
Eddie Tanner and his company in the bucolic outburst "When We Grow Up" is another feature of the big Sunday bill.
Singing, talking and burlesque drama will be the offering of Jennings and Barlowe.
"The Bell Boy and the Maid" is the title of a comedy by Virgil and La Blanche.
DeVeaux, Dell and Joe, have an odd vaudeville number.
La Petite Elba, the toy comedienne, is well known to vaudeville patrons who have seen her work on the big time.
"Is Marriage Sacred?" will be the film feature.

Feminist Recruiting Work Lampooned In New Comedy

Heralded as one of the brightest and breeziest musical offerings of the season, "Miss America" tops the new bill at the Pantages Monday. The extravaganza is a humorous tale of a recruiting station for women in a feminist military camp. Jean Waters and Macklin Medley are the stars of the cast, which includes half a dozen female "Sammies."
Fred H. Spear and his players will be seen in their latest success "Every Man's Sister."
The DeMichele brothers, "Those Comical Wops," play the harp and violin as only sons of music-loving Italy can.
Chester Gruber is a comedian of the nut variety, presenting an act of singing, story-telling and reciting.
"The Girls From Starland" is an aerial novelty presenting two pretty girls, with special stage settings.

One of the DeMichele brothers, a harpist of the first rank, who appears on the new Pantages bill.
